Stirling fair set for Sept. 3 & 4

The prize lists for Stirling Fall Fair, to be held on September 3rd and 4th have been distributed.

The directors have endeavored to make the prize lists attractive and have been well supported by outside firms and local citizens who have offered special prizes in the various classes.

Prize money has been made attractive in the horse section in a special effort to make this section attractive to exhibitors. A program of the various events for the horse classes has been added to the prize list for the convenience of exhibitors.

There will also be the customary events for heavy horses and ponies.

There are several special prizes offered which should result in one of the best shows of horses at Stirling Fair in years.

A feature of the afternoon's program will be an Open contest for teams. This proved a popular event last year and should create much interest for fair patrons. Prize money of $100 has been offered for this class.

Plans are well under way for holding a Western games programme at the Fair again this year. This has been a popular feature of the Fair for several years.

In the cattle classes, prizes are offered for Ayrshire, Jersey, Hereford, Dual Purposes and beef breeds. There are also special prizes listed for all classes.

The Hastings County Holstein-Friesian Association will again be holding their annual Black and White Day Cattle Show at Stirling Fair. Last year this was a very popular event a Stirling Fair and the Directors are very pleased that they have again chosen Stirling for their 1971 showing.

The customary classes are provided for sheep, swine and poultry.

A feature this year is the Eaton's of Canada Livestock Special, awarded to the exhibitor winning the highest number of points in the Livestock Classes. An exhibitor winning this trophy at another 1971 Fair will not be eligible at the local Fair.

The dairy section has been completely revised with higher prize money being offered to district producers.

The Ladies Work Section of the prize list has been revised and includes thrift, children's wear, ladies' wear, men's wear and homecraft divisions. There is also a junior section. Attractive prizes are offered, as well as several good specials donated by interest parties.

There are also classes for Garden and Roots, Grain and Seeds, and Domestic Science.

There is a Stirling 4H Community Club Section in which the Achievement Day will be held.

The Stirling Horticultural Society will be holding their fall show at the Fair. The prize list for this section has been completely changed and offers a wide range of flowers exhibits.

The farmers and their wives, as well as local citizens are urged to get a prize list and be an exhibitor in one of the many classes offered. The Agricultural Society sponsors the Fair entirely in the interest of the farmers of the surrounding district and should be encouraged.

Copies of the prize list may be obtained from R.E. Shortt, Secretary, or at Stirling Commercial Printing.

Exchange program continues

Urban students from Belleville and Toronto will be spending the next few weeks on Stirling area farms.

Under the exchange program sponsored by the Department of Agriculture and Food, Kelly Ellenton of Belleville will be staying with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoard, R. R. 3, Stirling, while Clifton Smith, Toronto, has been billeted with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Sharp and family, also of R. R. 3, Stirling.

Graduates in modelling

Connie Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tucker, Stirling, graduated from Patricia Stevens Career College and Finishing School, Toronto, on June 11.

She won top award for highest academic standing, most promising creative ability and best all-around student. She also won an award for modelling ability.

Miss Tucker, who is a graduate of Centennial Secondary School, Belleville, has accepted a position with David E. Rea, a bridal designer in Toronto, and also does part-time modelling.

Former Rawdon man heads Masons

A native of Harold was elected last month as head of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Ontario.

William Bailey, 67, of Toronto, brother of Gordon G. Bailey, Harold, was elected by 4,000 delegates to the post of Grand Master, succeeding former high school principal Bruce B. Foster of Ridgetown.

Two car loads of Masons from Stirling and area were in attendance at the Toronto meeting.

Mr. Bailey will pay a visit to the Stirling lodge in October of this year.

The new Grand Master spent 46 years with the Toronto board of education and when he retired last year, was the assistant superintendent of secondary schools.

He has three married children including two daughters and son, Robert, 35, who became a member of the fraternal order last year.

Mr. Bailey said one of the primary projects of the province's 126,000 Masons is a bursary fund for university students who find themselves in financial difficulties at the end of the school year.

Since the fund was initiated in co-operation with university officials in 1963, more than 300 students have been given financial aid which saved them from having to quit college.

John Irvine, 60, former Progressive Conservative member of Parliament from London, was elected to the post of Grand Secretary. Now living in Burlington, he represented London from 1963 to 1968.

Province Approves New Wing At Loyalist

Ed Barnett of Barnett and Rieder, Architects, Toronto, has been named Architect of the new wing, and John Dalton of the Toronto firm Dalton Engineering and Construction Company Limited is the management fee contractor.

An announcement was made last week by Frank Rabel, chairman of the Board of Governors of Loyalist College, jointly with the Provincial Members of Parliament for the counties served by Loyalist, Dr. R. T. Potter, Clarke Rollins, Norris Whitney and Russell Rowe, that the Department of Education has granted approval of a budgeted expenditure of $3,375,000 for the erection of a major addition to the existing first module of its permanent building. The new wing, comprising some 131,000 square feet will provide additional classrooms, a library and resource centre, a gymnasium that will also serve as a cafeteria, seminar rooms, laboratories, a small lecture theatre, office space for the Student Services Department and academic administration, a student centre, and space for various ancillary activities.

The additional space will provide facilities to handle an anticipated 1,300 to 1,500 day students. It should be pointed out that in the 1970-71 academic year, Loyalist College had 525 day students, 750 retraining students and approximately 1,000 extension students.

Need for the new structure has been obvious for the past year and was evidenced by over-crowded classrooms and large numbers of students eating their lunches while sitting on corridor floors. It is anticipated that this fall, regular enrolment will increase substantially, i.e., by somewhere between 30% and 40%. As a result, it will be necessary to shift the Retraining Division to night operation, at least until the new facilities come into use in September 1972.

The impact of a building project of this size on economic activity in the area is difficult to estimate quantitatively, but is sure to be significant. All of the work will be put out to tender and, of course, we hope and anticipate that local contractors and suppliers will be successful bidders for a good deal of it.

W.E. Sandercock was Stirling merchant

Former member of the Ontario Legislature for nearly 20 years and well known throughout Hastings county and the Quinte district, William Elmer Sandercock, 226 William Street, died early Sunday, July 25 in Belleville General Hospital. He was 76.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the John R. Bush Funeral Home with burial in Belleville Cemetery.

Mr. Sandercock was Progressive Conservative member for the former West Hastings riding from 1946 until 1967 and successfully contested five elections.

He served for one term as deputy speaker of the Legislature under former Premier John Robarts and had served on many committees.

Born in Hamilton township in Northumberland county near Camborne, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sandercock and had lived in Belleville for the past 42 years.

A one-time butcher and grocery store operator in Stirling, Mr. Sandercock served briefly on the village council.

Before entering provincial politics Mr. Sandercock acted as superintendent of the Hastings County Home for 19 years from 1929 until 1948.

Mr. Sandercock retired in 1967 because of failing health, with his seat in the Legislature being taken by Dr. Richard Potter as member for the new Quinte riding.

As member of the Legislature for two decades, Mr. Sandercock was held in high regard by his fellow party members as well as by members of the opposition.

Although his political activity and duties in the Legislature took up much of his time, Mr. Sandercock nevertheless had a keen interest for community affairs.

He was a member of the Belleville Agricultural Society for many years and for four years served as president of Belleville Fair (Quinte Exhibition).

For some years he was also active in real estate in Belleville.

An ardent sportsman, he was president of the Belleville Anglers for two years.

During his years as superintendent at the Hastings County Home, he served for one term as president of the Ontario County Homes Associations.

Fraternally, he was a life member of Stirling Lodge No. 69 AF and AM. He was also a member of Keystone Chapter No. 72, GRC at Stirling, and Chapter 55 of the Eastern Star in Belleville. He was a member of Bridge Street United Church and an honorary member of the Belleville Kiwanis Club.

Twice married, Mr. Sandercock is survived by his second wife, the former Ethel Irene Cranston, one son J. Ross Sandercock, at home, and two daughters, Mrs. Earle (Eleanor) Nelson of Campbellford, and Mrs. James (Marietta) Corlies of Kingston. His first wife, who died 50 years ago, was Beatrice Lightie.

Mr. Sandercock is also survived by two brothers, Melville of Cobourg, and Albert of Harwood; two sisters, Mrs. R. E. (Clara) Drope of Harwood and Mrs. R. J. (Doris) McLean of Camborne. There are two grandchildren, Stephen Nelson and Donald Corlies. One sister, Mrs. Myrtle Orr, predeceased him.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Alfred Poulter.

Scribe reaches 80-year goal

July 14th, Forty Senior Citizens went by bus to Cobourg and attended the District picnic there. It was reported that about 1000 were present.

July 22nd, Everett Cooke, who says he'll never see 39 again was presented with a lovely birthday cake by his wife, Mary, dis ole Scribe who has been trying for 80 years to be 80, finally made it. His wife Bessie, assisted by three granddaughters, Pat, Melinda and Kim put on a nice party in his honor, which all enjoyed.

July 29th. A family birthday week was enjoyed. Madge David, her sister Lenora Williams, a daughter, Jean Smith, and a grand daughter Rae all had birthdays this week. Madge's daughter in-law, Mona David and her daughter Jean Smith, a granddaughter Susan Buchanan with a son-in-law, Doug Smith and an old neighbor, Gladys McAdam, served a great big lunch. There was food and cake flying all over the place. The party was really intended for Madge and Lenora who expressed their thanks for it.

There are so many books on sex now that the library no longer asks folk to be quiet, just to remain calm.

F. Broekema bylaws officer

Stirling has another new bylaws enforcement officer.

He is Frank Broekema, who has agreed to take on the job as a part-time activity, in addition to his work as village foreman.

Mr. Broekema was appointed at a special meeting of village council held Thursday night. His appointment became effective on Monday morning.

Mr. Broekema succeeds Gerald McGee who resigned after being on the job for only a few weeks. He ended his service with the village on Saturday.

The new bylaws officer will not be provided with a uniform; however, he will carry a badge for identification purposes.

Sidney Permits Near $2 Million

George Caves, building and plumbing inspector for Sidney Township, Tuesday night reported almost $2 million in building permits had been issued in the month of July.

The $2 million mark would have been topped if Mr. Caves had been able to issue several outstanding permits. However, these will now come under the August listings.

Topping the list was a $1.5 million permit taken out by Leasehold Construction Corporation of Montreal, the firm which will construct the new Wallbridge Plaza at the junction of Wallbridge - Loyalist Road and Highway 2.

A total of $415 in permit fees was raised in the month of July, with an additional revenue of $353 realized for 31 plumbing permits also issued.

Finds rare aquatic life

An unusual and rare species of aquatic life was brought to the News-Argus office recently by Don Tucker, Stirling.

Mr. Tucker found a bryozoan growing in the Trent River west of Glen Ross.

The bryozoan is a species of living organism found in the shallow waters of rivers and streams. It is a jelly like mass which grows around the stem of bullrushes or similar water plants.

The bryozoan which Mr. Tucker found was oval in shape, approximately eight inches in depth and six inches in width.

He reported that it was a light brown in color when he found it but several hours later it turned white and was almost transparent.

On the outside of the bryozoan were several black specks which are the actual living part of the organism.

Mr. Tucker, who took the bryozoan to the Tweed Department of Lands and Forest office for identification, was told that the species are not too common in this area.

Swimming classes now under way

Graham Mouck, chairman of the Rotary Club's committee in charge of children's swimming classes, reports that 50 boys and girls have enrolled in the 10-day course which began Tuesday.

Classes are conducted for one hour daily, from 9 to 10 a.m., at the Belleville YMCA pool. Last year's classes at the outdoor Kinsmen Pool lasted for only half an hour, he recalled.

The swimming periods include 40 minutes of instruction and 20 minutes of free swimming time.

The students are transported from Stirling and back home again by bus.

The program is subsidized by the Stirling Rotary Club.

Nuclarus reveals revised proposal

Some 200-250 acres of land southeast of Stirling have been optioned by a Toronto-based waste disposal company which proposes to establish a beef cattle feed lot, and at the same time supply area cheese producers with a non-polluting method of whey disposal.

Nuclarus Ltd. recently proposed a beef cattle lot handling up to 3,500 head -- a $750,000 project to operate on a co-operative basis.

The optioned land lies between the eighth and ninth concessions of Sidney township, east of Highway 14 on Lots 26 to 30.

The company's proposal was made at a meeting with more than 100 Sidney township residents, members of council and representatives of the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

The company proposes that cheese factories purchase beef cattle for the feed lot and then participate in a cost and profit-sharing program with their cheese whey being fed to cattle as a dehydrated mash, to supplement or replace 10 to 12 gallons of water required daily for each beast.

The company plans to erect barns and outbuildings surrounded by a paved yard. Cattle will be fed a regular diet with the whey supplement.

Now this concept would only be effective in winter months. During the summer, at the same time feeding cattle whey mash, Nuclarus will resort to an earlier proposal to saurate fields with whey.

At a rate of 2,000 gallons of whey per acre, each day, the company will be well within the safe saturation standards suggested last week by John Vogt, from the industrial water divisions of the OWRC.

Nuclarus met with vehement opposition when they originally announced a plan to spray whey onto a 500-acre site in Tyendinaga Township at a rate of 50,000 gallosn per day. Excess liquid was to have been stored in large lagoons.

However, without adequate statistics for either the OWRC, the department of energy and resources management, the milk marketing board, cheese producers, Tyendinaga council and residents, the Toronto firm was unable to get to first base.

Residents feared odorous cesspools would accumulate in land hollows with that quantity of whey being sprayed on the land.

A BIG ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY

Johnston family reunion is held

The 10th annual Johnston Reunion was held July 25th at Glen Allen Park on Crowe Lake. 30 families were represented with a total attendance of 75, who came from Guelph, Toronto, Oshawa, Belleville, Trenton, Milford, Campbellford and the surrounding area.

Of a family of 7 daughters and 7 sons of Sandy Johnston (Alexander) and his wife Mary Summers, who settled on the 8th concession of Rawdon Township, one daughter, Mrs. William Forestall, Campbellford is the only surviving member, and enjoying fair health was able to attend. She greatly enjoyed visiting with her nieces and nephews, some of whom she sees only at these annual reunions.

The weather was ideal for the basket picnic which provided a delicious meal at 1 p.m.

After the meal and registration Mr. Frank McEvoy, Campbellford, called the meeting to order. The minutes of the last reunion were read by the secretary, Mrs. John Carlisle of Wellmans. Mrs. Frank McEvoy gave the treasurer's report. Mr. McEvoy thanked everyone for their co-operation during his 2 year term as president and turned the business over to Mrs. Blake Johnston, the in-coming president. It was decided to hold the reunion in 1972 at Island Park on the last Sunday in June, with a picnic dinner at 1 p.m.

Prizes were given out as follows: oldest lady-Mrs. William Forestall, oldest gentleman-Mr. William Johnston of Stirling, couple married the longest-Mr. and Mrs. William Forestall of Campbellford (57 years), couple coming the longest distance-Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnston, Guelph, youngest child-Daron Johnston, most recently married couple-Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnston of Batawa (4 years), lady with the most safety pins in her purse-Miss Joan Chisholm, gentleman with a pocket knife first to display-Calvin Johnston.

The children under 10 years enjoyed a nickel scramble provided by Mr. Frank Summers, Belleville.

The older members enjoyed visiting together for the remainder of the day, while the younger ones enjoyed swimming and water sports.

REPLACEMENT SOUGHT FOR CANCELLED PLAN

Bell Canada is looking for another economy long distance calling option to replace its popular Family Calling Plan which was withdrawn when a new long distance rate schedule was introduced in early June.

The Family Calling Plan, which permitted calling for 10 minutes or more at half-price between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m., and all day Sunday, was discontinued because it was overloading the network.

"From the comments we've received, it's become apparent that these calls meant a great deal to those who made them, and to those who received them," president R. C. Scrivener said. "While the customers who were affected when Family Calling disappeared represent a small proportion of long distance callers, they have made a real case for continuing some form of similar plan and we want to help them. But we will have to do this without incurring a lot of new expense for new facilities to provide bargain calling. Otherwise, the large body of our customers, who call at other times, would be subsidizing those who call in discount periods."

Mr. Scrivener said that while the Company is gathering information on its new toll rate schedule as requested by the Canadian Transport Commission, it will conduct studies as to the best method of meeting the expressed wishes for another "Family visit" plan.

Turriff - Vilneff

Tweed Penticostal Church was the scene of the July 17 wedding of Deborah Anne, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vilneff of St. Catherines and Elvin Gerald Turriff, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turriff, R.R. 4 Stirling.

Rev. R.T. Hiscock officiated at the double ring ceremony. Ray Powers of St. Catherines played the wedding music.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a floor length gown of white floral organza over taffeta, long full sleeves and trimmed with white lace and velvet ribbon. She wore a shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Linda Nicolson wore a floor length gown of white floral organza over blue taffeta, long full sleeves and trimmed with white lace and velvet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of blue and white roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Linda Vilneff, sister of the bride and Miss Debra Turriff, sister of the groom. The flower girls were Miss Rhonda Vilneff, sister of the bride and Miss Linda Turriff, sister of the groom. All four girls were dressed alike in street length blue floral organza dresses, long full sleeves and trimmed with white lace and white velvet ribbon. These four dresses were made by the groom's mother. The girls carried bouquets of blue roses and white lily of the valley.

The best man was David Nicolson and ushers were Ron Chatten and Fred Linde.

A reception followed at the Tweed Hall. Vince Goulah of Tweed was master of ceremonies while Ray Powers provided music and song for the afternoon and evening entertainment.

The young couple left for a wedding trip to Ottawa and Eganville and other points east.

Centennial services continue

Mount Pleasant United Church continues its Centennial celebration on Sunday, August 15, with a decoration and memorial service in the cemetery at 2:30 p.m.

Previous to the establishment of public burying grounds, most families had their own burying grounds on their own property. Many of these spots are still in evidence in the Mount Pleasant area. Some are still in use and are in excellent condition. Others are neglected with broken stones and overgrown with broken brush. Many lie in unmarked and unknown spots on what was their own property.

Eighty - five years after the first settlers came to this area, Reuben Hubble donated land for the burial of the Baptist people. This cemetery is known as Hubble Hill Pioneer Cemetery and is situated across the highway from Mount Pleasant Church. The first burial was that of Daniel Chard in 1870.

Nehemiah Hubble, 3rd, donated land off his farm for a cemetery, to Hubble Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, although he, himself was a deacon and trustee of the Baptist Church. He and his wives are buried in a small plot adjacent to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

An invitation is extended to relatives of all these early pioneers to join with us on August 15 to honor those who established their homes and their churches in our community. We remember also, the many who served their church and community in later years, and now rest from their labors.

Campbellford Salvation Army Band will be in attendance and provide the music. Rev. Gordon Whitehorn, minister of Hoard's United Church (which is also celebrating its 100th anniversary) will be the guest speaker. The time is 2:30 p.m.

Taste Sweet Summer In Fresh Vegetables

Nutrition can be a sometime thing in the good old summertime. Lazy appetites. Heat-wilted people. Catch-as-catch-can meals. Even with the best of intentions, everyone runs the risk of nutrition letdown in hot weather. Balanced meals can be so simple. Make them with foods folks like best. Good example is a meal of savory, grilled frankfurters wrapped in bacon, golden corn on the cob, and bright red, fresh beets served with zesty scallion butter. Fresh vegetables with fruit comprise one group of the Basic Four food groups. Serve fresh vegetables daily at summer meals to keep vitamins and minerals high in the diet.

Fresh Beets With Scallion Butter

8 medium-size fresh beets
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup chopped scallions
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Remove greens from beets, leaving about 1-inch of the stem end intact. Cover and cook in a small amount of boiling salted water until just tender. Melt butter or margarine in a small skillet; add scallions and cook until tender. Slip skins off beets. Slice beets and toss with scallion butter. Season with salt and pepper.
Makes: 4 servings.

Forty-five attend annual Hubble reunion at Zwick's Island

by Mrs. Percy MacMullen

On Sunday July 25 the Hubble clan held their 22nd annual reunion at Zwick's Island Park, Belleville, with 45 men, women and children in attendance.

The guests came from Brampton, Belleville, Marmora, Foxboro, Stirling, Campbellford, Norwood and Frankford.

The president, Cecil Hubble, Foxboro, welcomed the group and Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave the invocation after which a large dinner was served.

The usual collection amounted to $13.80 and this money will be used for postage on the invitations, cards to the ill and prizes.

Mrs. Clifford Hubble was in charge of bringing and arranging the prizes.

Prizes were given for: the farthest traveller to the reunion, Donald Hubble, Brampton; youngest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. David Maybee (nee Doreen Hubble), Mount Pleasant; oldest man, Ernest Hubble, Foxboro; oldest lady, Florence MacMullen, Mount Pleasant; youngest child, Linda Lee Fairman, Campbellford; ladies lucky prize, Mrs. William Fisher, Norwood; men's lucky prize, Cecil Hubble, Foxboro.

All the children received popcorn and candy.

The business period opened with a period of silence for deceased members. The "In Memoriam" was prepared and read by Mrs. Percy MacMullen and closed with a poem.

The names were:

Mrs. Orpha Mitts, wife of the late William Mitts, in her 86th year who died on Sunday December 6, 1970. She was a sister of Hildred and Lee Hubble, Frankford.

Wesley Andrew Sharpe, Frankford, who died on December 9, 1970, in his 63rd year. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharpe and a nephew of Lorne and Luella Hubble.

Mabel Wyant Hubble on March 13, 1971 in her 76th year. Beloved wife of Everett K. Hubble, Belleville. She was a valued member of the reunion clan.

Charles Franklin Hubble, Plymouth, Michigan, on July 17, 1971. He was in his 78th year and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hubble, Rawdon.

Mrs. Arthur Pyear read a letter from Arthur and Bessie Hay, Chatham. They enclosed a special copy of the "Hubble Crest" for the minute book. The slogan is "Yield not to Misfortunes but Surmount Them."

Mrs. Russell Pyear acted as secretary for the day. Everett Hubble conducted the election and the new slate of officers are: Cecil Hubble, Frankford, president; Sid Demoreat, Marmora, vice president; Mrs. Percy Hubble, Stockdale, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Pyear, Frankford, R. R. 3, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clifford Hubble, Frankford R. R. 3, prizes.

In 1972 the reunion will be held on the fourth Sunday in July at Zwick's Island Park, Belleville.

A vote of thanks was tendered the historian, Mrs Percy MacMullen, for her message.

Mrs. MacMullen, in relating the history of the Hubble Family Reunion, said, "We remember with gratitude the intent of Lorne and Luella Hubble when they sponsored the first reunion at Presqu'ile on July 23, 1950. It certainly was a good idea."

"At this time we pay tribute to Nehemiah Hubble," said Mrs. MacMullen, "who came to Hubble Hill in 1784 and later brought his wife, Lucinda Welton and family."

Mrs. MacMullen told of how Nehemiah and Lucinda, who were United Empire Loyalists, hewed their home out of the wilderness.

By 1871 when Hubble Hill Episcopel Methodist Church was erected, there were 15 Hubble families in the area.

Mrs. MacMullen invited the group to attend a memorial cemetery service on Sunday, August 15 at 2:30 p.m. in memory of the pioneers of both cemeteries. Floral decorations placed on the graves in memory of loved ones can be made at this time.

There were three marriages, Jacqueline Terry and Gregory Graham in Frankford; Patricia Ann MacMullen and Reginald Christopher, Belleville; and Douglas Montgomery at Barrie.

Wedding anniversary parties were held on December, 1970 for Ormal and Jean MacMullen, Belleville on their 25th wedding anniversary; Clifford and Mabel Hubble, who celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary in December, 1970 and Burton and Irene Bateman, Stirling who observed their 50th wedding anniversary in May 1971.

Two members of the clan accepted office as councillors. They are Hadley Richardson to Sidney Township Council and Maurice Montgomery to Stirling Village Council.

On July 18 'Open House' was held at River Valley WI Centre honoring Percy MacMullen on his 80th birthday.

Births in the clan were as follows: Tammy Ann Hubble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hubble, Glen Ross in December, 1970; Shawn Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Richardson, River Valley; Linda Lee Fairman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fairman, Campbellford; William James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery, Stirling and Connie Lee, daughter of Myles and Linda McDonald, Stirling, both in April 1971; and John Raymond, son of David and Rose Marie MacMullen of Belleville in June, 1971.

"A" WATER-MILFOIL —
(Myriophyllum exalbescens) — One of the most abundant and widespread of the milfoils. Though rated a fairly important duck food, its real value is the environment it creates for minute aquatic animal and insect life, which in turn are food of waterfowl and fish.

"B" COONTAIL —
Another widespread aquatic plant, often in enormous beds of closely packed plants, which choke-out more desirable vegetation. It grows equally well in sun or shade and frequently in deep water. Little value as a duck food.

Weekly Meditation

CONTRIBUTED BY STIRLING CLERGYMEN

by Douglas Tyrer
Grace Chapel, Stirling

Recently we saw a painting by Joseph Raffael entitled "Salmon". In startling colors is shown a salmon caught in a net, a symbol, we are told, of how "life flashes by and then is ended by force." Artist Raffael may be depicting his own experience, for he has "experimented with marijuana, astrology, numerology and spiritualism."

Salmon, therefore, is to be understood as a symbolic evaluation of life from the standpoint of a man who is searching for the meaning of life, but who has not found the Key. But is there no answer? We believe there is, and that answer is found within the pages of the Bible.

For man without God life is nothing more than a flash and a bang. But through the Lord Jesus Christ, it is possible to be set free from the enslaving net, and to be given a hope for the future.

Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me" John 14:6. Again Jesus says, If the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed. John 8:36. And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. Acts 2:21.

"Imaginative, musical"

Dennis is eight, a healthy, robust, extremely active lad. His background is Indian and white. He likes playing football and baseball and is a great hockey enthusiast. When no games are going on, he's likely to be riding his bike. He learned to swim last summer.

This handsome youngster is very musical and can entertain himself for long periods by playing the drums — at which he's quite good — or listening to records. In fact, he's rather a loner — except for team games, he'd rather be on his own.

Dennis is bright, imaginative, creative and a good conversationalist, but because of various unhappy experiences he finds it hard to trust adults. He has difficulty concentrating in school. Though he can do his academic work, and he passed into Grade 3, the distractions of an open class system created problems for him. He works much better with the support and encouragement of an interested adult.

This young lad will be a rewarding son for a mother and father who have patience and understanding, and who will give him security, opportunities — and love. To inquire about adopting Dennis, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information, ask your local Children's Aid Society.

It's true, living in any older home without up-to-date wiring just doesn't hold a candle to truly modern electrical living.
The changes that electrical modernization brings will brighten your life throughout every room in your home – for years to come. You'll have more outlets and switches where you want them, better performance from your appliances – and you can even add the year-round comfort of electric climate control.
And rewiring an older home needn't be complicated or expensive. In fact, the cost will probably be less than you imagine.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

Unwilling Husband

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I've tried for some time to get my husband to make a will, but he flatly refuses. He's very unreasonable, saying "You married me to work me to death and then have fun with all my money." I'm particularly uneasy about the whole situation because his children by a former marriage have already let me know they'll fight tooth and nail for their Dad's estate. (I also have children by a former marriage, but they're grown and I'm not asking him to provide for them.) Should anything happen to my husband, I think the estate should go to me, with amounts set aside for everyone concerned. (I don't relish the idea of having to work again for a living in the later years of my life.) Should anything happen to us both at the same time, I'd want the bulk of the estate to go to his youngest daughter so she can continue her education as we had planned. And I'd like to see his other children and mine get some token amounts. Please advise so I might get this matter settled.

G. J., Boise, Idaho

Dear G. J.:

Having a will is best of course, but under the laws which vary from state to state, a widow often has certain rights to her husband's property, whether he leaves a will or not. Why not talk to a lawyer about this and about the entire problem. He probably runs across such situations frequently and can make specific suggestions on the action to take. Also, there's no reason why you can't now make a will of your own so the property you inherit will be disposed of as you wish. You may be uneasy, but you do have certain rights. Why not find out more about them?

Vegetating Teacher's Aide

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I lived in Detroit for 34 years and raised three children, one of whom is retarded. I worked in a centre for the mentally handicapped so he could attend special classes and was also active in the PTA. Eventually I became a teacher's aide, working with slow learners who had speech, reading and handwriting problems. (I became something of a Jack-of-all-Trades at the centre.) Now we've moved to a distant suburb where there aren't any teacher's aide positions although, from what I can see, they need them. So I'm sitting around, just vegetating. I dislike living here with such intensity that it's warping my health and my peace of mind.

L. O., Taylor, Mich.

Dear L. O.:

Since you have all those teaching skills, why don't you volunteer to use them, instead of sitting around and brooding. Why not offer your services to the local school system - or perhaps to the parents of individual children. You might get out there and do the job you're qualified for, instead of staying at home and being miserable. It may not bring you financial gain, but it could do you a world of good.

Vacation and Vocation

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

My age is 50 and my husband's is 58. Our only child married recently. Of course, while he was growing up he was our main-- and most of the time our only-- interest. Now we're experiencing the problems most middle-aged couples have. Not much to say to each other and wondering what we have in common. So I'm thinking about going back to work. I have a B.S. degree in education with experience in the teaching field but no desire to return to it. Do you have any suggestions?

Y.R., Corpus Christi, Texas

Dear Y.R.:

That's what comes of putting your eggs in one basket, so to speak. Now you really have some catching up to do, in terms of your marriage and your work. If you can, why not take a trip alone with your husband to a place where neither of you have been? It needn't be an expensive or an elaborate trip. The idea would be to get out of your familiar rut and see what you can do about rediscovering one another. As for your vocational decisions, since you do have a degree and some previous work experience, that's all to the good. Why not check with your local employment agencies or your state employment service? They might be able to suggest administrative or other kinds of jobs which could utilize your background but not necessarily involve teaching.

Placing Priorities

Dear Marget Brookfield:

I am 46 years old and these are some of my problems: 1) two grown daughters in college; 2) demanding parents; 3) always feeling cranky, irritable and nervous; and 4) a mixed-up husband having an affair.

H.R., Burlington, N.C.

Dear H.R.:

Having two daughters in college is not a problem, it's an accomplishment. As for demanding parents, they're often only as demanding as you let them be. If you can draw the line realistically between what you can actually do for them and what you cannot, they may simmer down somewhat. The cranky, nervous feeling you describe may be a result of your problems or related perhaps to the menopause. Why not see your doctor and find out if you might be suffering from a hormone deficiency? Many doctors prescribe estrogen replacement for such conditions. Your most serious problems would seem to be your wandering husband, but he turns up at the bottom of your list. Perhaps he felt you've been so tied up with those other problems that he had to look elsewhere for attention. Why not give him to priority right now and see if you can repair your relationship?

Proper Names for Trees

The proper Latin name for a tree gives much information. Sugar Maple, for instance is Acer saccharum Marsh. Acer is the generic name which tells us that it belongs to the maples, saccharum is from the Greek "sakcharon" meaning sugary and Marsh is the abbreviated name of Humphrey Marshall who first described this species.

WEEKLY REPORT FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT CO-OP

(BY JACK WOOD)

Hot Weather - Cool Rations

Research shows that there is such a thing as a "cool" ration. That is, a ration that produces less body heat than some other rations. And summertime is when the dairyman should be concerned.

We also know from research that the comfort of cows in hot weather is likely as important as proper feeding, for maximum production. Milk production can drop 15% to 20% in hot weather which means as much as 200 to 300 pounds of milk for cows producing 1,000 to 1,200 pounds per month. Heat also lowers fat percent and solids not fat in the milk. The critical temperature for most cows is about 80F., although cows differ somewhat between individuals and breeds.

Another bad effect of hot temperature is poorer reproduction.

So using some good feeding practices, and good management practices in hot weather can help your profits by keeping up production income.

Obviously cows have to keep up good consumption of feed nutrients, even though the heat may decrease their appetite. We know from studies that reducing fibre content helps keep body heat down. Why? Because roughages and other high fibre content feeds produce more heat in the cow's body than the high energy feeds. If you reduce the amounts of these feeds in the ration, you should increase the supplement or high energy feeds.

This means limiting hay, silage, or pasture to a minimum intake to maintain fat levels and milk output (one pound of hay equivalent to one hundred pounds of body weight per day). Combine this with the practice of putting cows on the best pasture on cool nights, when they do most of their grazing. Similarly, give the cows a heavy feeding of roughage at night when temperatures are lower to encourage the cows to eat better.

Some tax rebates still outstanding

Some Ontario farmers have not yet received their property tax rebates for 1970. The problem, according to Department of Municipal Affairs officials, is that some properties are incorrectly coded on local assessment roles.

"This is an extremely unfortunate situation", Ontario Federation of Agriculture president Gordon Hill commented on hearing the report. "This rebate was awarded to all farmers, and all farmers should receive it".

The property tax rebate was announced in October 1970 by then premier, John Robarts. It amounts to 25 per cent of net farm property taxes.

"If any farmer hasn't received his rebate, here's what I suggest he do. First he should contact his local assessment office to check the coding on his property. If it's coded residential or commercial, or something other than farm, he should ask the assessment office to correct it, and pass the information on to the Department of Municipal Affairs in Toronto."

Hill said that if the property owner doesn't insist on correction no one will.

"After you have spoken to your assessment office", Hill continued, "write to me at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, 387 Bloor St. E., Toronto 285, giving me details of your assessment and property. We have found that some assessment offices are reluctant to make coding corrections. But if we have the necessary information we can exert pressure from this end too."

"I invite any farmer who hasn't received his rebate - whether he's a member of the federation or not - to write to me about his rebate problem."

Province increases school grants

The Ontario Department of Education will pay more toward the cost of school construction, Minister of Education Robert Welch announced last week.

Mr. Welch said his Department's capital grant plan for school construction has been revised to allow for the increases in construction costs since the plan's introduction in 1967. The tables used to calculate the expenditure eligible for grant have been increased the equivalent of about four per cent a year.

Mr. Welch said the revisions, coupled with a higher Department grant on debenture debt charges, will particularly assist those boards in fast growing areas in providing vital school facilities at a minimal cost to their taxpayers.

Mr. Welch stressed that boards will not be allowed to increase the maximum expenditure for school building but that a larger portion of this maximum cost will be eligible for grant.

The Minister stated that the changes will apply to the boards' 1971 construction programs. Under the revisions, the Department will pay grants averaging in excess of 90 per cent of nine tenths of the construction costs.

The basic plan covers new elementary and secondary school construction and renovations to existing buildings. Secondary school construction and renovations to existing buildings. Secondary school portable facilities will now be eligible for grants.

Mr. Welch said that the plan will be adjusted annually to keep pace with rising construction costs. The Minister stated the Department will continue to require school boards to provide long-term justification for all new school construction. At the same time the Department will continue to examine all school building plans to insure that maximum economy is attained.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P. O. Box 5875, London Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.
Dear Mr. Martin:
I've been hearing a lot about condominiums lately. What is your opinion of them as a good home investment and how do they differ from cooperatives?
J.B.
Dear J.B.:
These days the condominium market is booming and there are several good reasons for it. This year hundreds of thousands of people in the U.S. and Canada will be moving into a condominium home.
In total, around 40% of all housing starts will be apartments and many of these will be condominiums, as will be the case with the large number of the four and six-plex apartment townhouses.
Buying a condominium is about the same as buying a conventional home. You are actually purchasing legal title to the property and are responsible for paying property taxes. You also buy a share of such communal facilities as swimming pools, golf course, gardens, elevators, etc.
Besides your monthly mortgage payments, you may also have to pay a monthly maintenance charge for the total condominium complex.
Condominiums can be apartments, cottages, or separate townhouses. Unlike a cooperative, where many people jointly own an apartment building, you only own and are responsible for your own living quarters.
You can resell your condominium, rent it or give it away if you want since you are the actual owner of it. If the entire complex fails financially, you are not financially responsible for the failure.
In other words, you own your own unit just the same as you would own a regular home. A condominium is quite different from a cooperative.

Hizenga - Reid

On Saturday, July 17 at 1 p.m. a quiet double ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. Evert Griter in Bethany Christian Reform Church, Bloomfield. At this time, Linda Bernice Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Reid, Stirling, enchanged marriage vows with Frank William Hizenga, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Huizenga, Demorestville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown she had made herself. It was a floor-length gown of white polyester. The dress featured daisy appliques, both on the Empire styled bodice and on the full skirt. The gown had a scooped neckline and long, cuffed, lantern sleeves. To compliment her outfit, the bride wore a double strand of pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was gathered to a beaded tiara. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations enhanced by green ivy.

The bride's sister, Miss Loretta Reid, was her maid of honor. She was attired in a pale green chiffon pant gown, that featured daisy trim around the scooped neck and the Empire waistline. The gown had long, cuffed sheer sleeves. She had a matching green ribbon in her hair. The nosegay she carried consisted of a small circlet of pink sweetheart roses centered by a white carnation, tinted green.

Herman Huizenga attended his brother, while John Huizenga, also a brother of the groom, was the usher.

A reception followed immediately at the home of the bride's parents at Stirling. The bride's mother was attired in a pale blue dress with long lace sleeves. She had navy accessories with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

CITY BOY LEARNS RURAL WAYS

Kenneth Sharpe, (standing) of OrnMac Farms, R.R. 3, Stirling, showed Clifton Smith, 14, Toronto, how to operate a tractor and other aspects of farm life last week. Clifton visited the farms operated by Malcolm and Orno Sharpe as part of the Department of Agriculture and Food's urban-rural exchange program. The program is designed to acquaint young people from large urban centres with rural life in Ontario.

Oak Hills grass fire destroys barn

An early afternoon fire on Tuesday destroyed a barn and endangered a nearby farm house on the 7th Concession of Sidney approximately three miles south of Stirling.

Mrs. D. Scea notified the Sidney township fire department after seeing some grass on fire in a field about one quarter of a mile to the west of her farm house. Fanned by high winds, the flames caught a nearby barn afire.

The barn was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived and they concentrated their efforts on stopping the grass fire from spreading toward the Scea farm.

The barn, approximately 100 years old, contained hay and some old equipment. The land and barn are reported to be under the jurisdiction of a Toronto realty firm. It had not been used for several years.

Sidney township fire department responded to the scene with four trucks and remained there until an earth moving machine was brought in to plow under the foundation of the barn.

BULLETIN

Seven persons narrowly escaped death in an early morning fire today at a Frankford Road residence.

Bernard Berry, 155 Frankford Road suffered severe cuts to his left arm when he smashed the glass in a bedroom window to make an escape route for his family.

An eight year old son, Michael, is credited with averting what could have been a tragedy.

He awoke and began screaming when his bedroom filled with smoke about 5:30 a.m. The other members of the household were awakened and evacuation began.

Mr. Berry broke a window and lifted Michael through it to safety. Fourteen year old Brian was also let out through a window, as was Agnes, 16.

Mr. Berry said his wife escaped through a window and then he handed eight month old David to her through a window. Mr. Berry then escaped through a window himself.

A seventh person, Earl Minnie, 19, who was sleeping in the basement escaped through a side door.

A neighbor two doors away, councillor Edward Klompmaker, turned in the alarm to the Stirling Fire Department.

Fire chief G.C. Mouck said the blaze started in the living room, beneath the chesterfield, just below floor level. A faulty electrical circuit may have been the cause, he said.

The flames spread up the living room wall and into the ceiling but did not break into the attic. There was considerable smoke and water damage to other parts of the house.

Firemen had the blaze under control within a few minutes.

Driver dies on Front St.

A Belleville man suffered a fatal heart attack while driving through Stirling on Friday morning.

A resuscitator was brought from the local fire department; however, it was not used.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Donaldson, he was born at Bayside and had lived all his life in the Belleville district.

He is survived by his wife, the former Winnifred Elmy, two sons Donald of Brantford and Fred of Peterborough, and a daughter, Mrs. Chester (Barbara) Grubb of Osgoode, Ont. There are nine grandchildren. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Fred LaRue of Belleville.

The funeral was held Monday from the Thompson Funeral Chapel with service at 11:30 a.m. conducted by Rev. Alfred Poulter. Interment White Cemetery.

Northumberland breeders stage Black & White show

Northumberland County Holstein Breeders had a good quality Black and White show at Campbellford Fair on July 30 when 78 animals were paraded by fifteen exhibitors. This was the first time the County had used the Federal Classification and the first occasion for an evening show. A ringside of 300 spectators followed the work of Judge Roy Ormiston, of Brooklin, as he gave concise, educational reasons for the placings. Almerson Farms, Campbellford, took both the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor honors, with William Moore, Cobourg, in second place for both awards. Marilyn Merrill, Campbellford, the Northumberland County Dairy Princess, assisted in handing out the ribbons. There were 4 new exhibitors.

The senior female parade was a tribute to the exhibitors, all entries being of top quality. The winner, Almerson Marquis Echo, shown by Almerson Farms, came from the outstanding class of four-year-olds. She was tall and stylish with an extremely well balanced udder which won the Club trophy for Best Udder. The Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Championship went to the first prize three-year-old, Surodana Marquis Laraine, the All-Canadian two-year-old heifer of 1970, shown by William Moore, Cobourg, and Donald Budd, Port Hope.

The Junior Champion females were very close, the winning senior yearling heifer, Almerson Rockman Gail having the advantage of age over the outstanding winning heifer calf, Almerson Dividend Jessie. Both shown by Almerson Farms, they were named Junior and Reserve Junior Champions. Judge Ormiston described Jessie as "nearing perfection" with her strong, level top and stylish appearance.

The bull calf class brought out exceptionally good individuals, the entry of Honeydell Stock Farm, Warkworth, Honeydell Rockman Star, standing first, with plenty of scale and dairy quality. He was well balanced and smooth of rump.

The yearling bull class contained both champions, with Morwill Leader Promoter, shown by William Moore in first place for the Championship. He looked mature, with plenty of stretch and scale to place him above Haybrae Majestic Tony, who was Reserve Champion for Desmond Hay, Campbellford.

Swimming awards presented by RVWI

(by Mrs. Percy MacMullen)

River Valley Women's Institute sponsored the annual swimming awards night at the Centre on Tuesday evening, August 3.

Mrs. Roy Tucker was chairman and 38 children had taken the instruction in swimming at the Kinsman pool on Dundas St. E., Belleville.

Mrs. Glenn Bush was the convenor of this event for River Valley Women's Institute. A bus from Franklin Smith, Marmora, was chartered and Lois Clarke was the chauffeur for the ten days with the mothers as chaperones.

She introduced Lynne-Anne Muldoon, pool manager, who has been in charge for the past five years and the assistant manager, Paul Thompson.

They both have Red Cross and Royal Life awards of Merit and the former also has a Badge of Distinction.

They presented the 38 children with their various awards. The classes were pre-beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate beginner, advanced beginners, lead up to Junior Red Cross, lead up to Intermediate and senior.

In the Intermediate classes were Steven Bush, Karen Wood, Marlene Foshay and Grant Carr.

The lead up to senior group included Kelly Dobson and John Bush and the lead up to Bronze was given to Mark Dobson.

At the close of the presentations the Institute president, Mrs. George Grills voiced thanks to all who had helped to make the swimming project a success. The group then enjoyed hot dogs and a cool drink on the lawn.

Those in charge of barbecues were Mr. and Mrs. George Grills and Mrs. Jack Bush. Others assisting with sewing were Mrs. Roy Tucker and Mrs. James Hoard.

In June a barn sale was held at Hoards station and several of the mothers assisted the institute members with this money making event to help defray the expense of the project.

The 38 children were Steven Bush, Grant Carr, Ted DeBruyn, John Bush, Robert Bush, Douglas Bush, Christopher Grills, Ralph Tucker, Leslie Tucker, Heather Hoard, Linda Hoard, Kenneth Hoard, Isabel Hoard, Margaret Hoard and Loretta Hoard. These 15 were children of Institute members. The other 23 were children of the community and included Gregory Fraser, Gregory King, Suzanne King, Kathy Richardson, Donnie Richardson, Jennifer Richardson, Connie Williams, Kim Williams, Kevin Brooks, Keith Brooks, Danny Clarke, Dale Clark, Kelly Dobson, Marke Dobson, Karen Woods, Sherry Farrell, Steven Marks, Betsy Winkelman, Karen Clarke, Ronald Clarke, Marlene Foshay, Cindy Foshay and Yvonne Foshay.

The pool fees were $152.00 and each child paid $4.00. River Valley WI provided the transportation, a chartered bus and chauffeur at a cost of $200.00. The expense of the awards night was $7.97.

A barn sale was held at Hoards to defray expenses and the total receipts of that event were $127.21. The treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Donohoe paid $80.76 from the institute funds for the project which has been an annual affair for the past few years.

Former Stirling woman dies

Mrs. Clarence (Betty) Maracle, daughter of a Stirling couple, died suddenly in California over the weekend. She was in her 38th year.

Mrs. Maracle, who suffered a fatal brain hemorrhage, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cooke, Henry St.

The funeral service will be held at Baldwin Park Funeral Home, 4115 North Lawrence Ave., La-Puente, California on Thursday morning.

Surviving, besides her parents, are her husband, Clarence Maracle; four children, Louanne, Joanne, John and Jimmy; two sisters, Mrs. Ted (Eileen) Barnard, Stirling, and Mrs. Jason (Evelyn) Field, Georgetown; and a brother, Kenneth Cooke, Bayside.

Mrs. Maracle received her education at the Ridge Road Public School and Stirling-Rawdon High School.

She had lived in Syracuse, N.Y., before moving to California four years ago.

Hair raising experience

There were 46 present at Senior Citizens on Thursday. We were happy to welcome a former citizen, Ella Donald, who now lives in Toronto. Three of our kids served a dainty lunch. President Fred Heasman thanked Ethel Duffin, Dorothy Summers and Florence Dafoe for this.

President Fred Heasman was back after an enjoyable tour of the British Isles in search of a partner. (Maybe). He says that although he enjoyed the trip very much he thinks there is no place like home and no folk like our home folk. He thinks there's better fishing right here in Canada.

Past president, George Heasman and his wife, Lil, are back again after a very enjoyable trip to the Yukon. While away a miracle happened to George. He has started to grow hair again and no kidding will need a hair cut in a few days. He can't explain it unless his meeting a large polar bear was a hair raising experience. Well, anyway, that's just another way of getting ahead.

The post office is raising the postal rates again. The increased tariff will make it possible for them to install highly sophisticated electronic equipment. Now, instead of a $90 a week clerk your letter will be lost by a $20,000,000 computer.

Rawdon Creek matter not sewage

The brown sludge - like material that came floating down Rawdon Creek and the Trent River in Sidney Township near the village of Stirling shortly after the weekend of May 24 has been proven not to be raw sewage coming from the waste treatment system in Stirling.

This good news was pointed out in a letter from L.G. South, District Engineer, Division of Sanitary Engineering, Waste Management Branch of the Ontario Water Resources Commission in Kingston. The letter was received recently by W.T. Lawson, secretary-treasurer of the Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority.

After examination of samples taken at several places along the creek and the river, it was found that the material mainly consisted of green algae. Floating chunks in the samples appeared to be pieces of inorganic material and considerable quantities of organic diatoms.

"Therefore," the letter says, "the sludge is nothing more than natural occuring bottom deposits."

According to Mr. South, the flotation of this material was probably the result of either gases formed when the material was decomposing, or of physical agitation, such as an increased flow in the water.

Mr. South continues in his letter, "While this appears to be a normal cause, it should be pointed out that the condition was brought about by a highly productive stream system. The land run-off and effluent from waste treatment systems, such as the lagoon at the village of Stirling, which is achieving very good organic and suspended solids removal, add to the nutrient enrichment of the creek."

Mr. South also explained that observations and laboratory tests of samples did not support the contention that the material was raw sewage.

The problem therefore is described by Mr. South as a natural occurrance as opposed to raw sewage from Stirling. He also said that the intensity of the problem this year was a result of the conducive environmental conditions, proper algae growth and the flow pattern of Rawdon Creek.

Mr. Lawson said last week that the background to the problem is that after the May 24 weekend, Reeve Jack Bush of Sidney Township was confronted by a large group of citizens and summer cottagers who were sure that the material was raw sewage.

Mr. Bush had told him that he, as reeve and as executive member of the LTRCA, promised an investigation. Mr. Lawson contacted the Hastings and Prince Edward Health Unit, Belleville, which examined samples taken by C. Morton, a member of the Water Advisary Board of the LTRCA and by its own officials. The health unit replied promptly, indicating that the material was diluted sewage.

The Waste Management Branch examinations of the samples, however, did not support this opinion.

THE LITTLE THINGS
By Ruth McDonald

They were such lovely things, just small, --
You'd hardly notice them at all,
A loaf of bread, crusty and sweet,
To welcome strangers to our street;
An hour with a fretful child --
Until a rested mother smiled;
A plant for someone who was ill,
To beckon from a window sill;
A phone call or a note to say,
"My thoughts and prayers are yours today."
Small things, but big to play a part
In strengthening a human heart,
They were such lovely things, it's true --
The little things I meant to do!

WEEKLY REPORT FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT

CO-OP

(BY JACK WOOD)

Last week we referred to low fibre, high energy rations for hot weather feeding of dairy cattle. These kinds of rations tend to produce less body heat than feed high in fibre.

This week I want to touch on some other feed and management tips for dairy cattle during hot weather.

It likely goes without saying that you need to provide your cows with free choice salt. Excessive heat means excessive sweating, which means excessive salt loss from the animal's body. Other minerals like trace minerals, calcium and phospate should be fed free choice also.

Water is another obvious need of cattle. But how many of us think to provide shade over the water tank to keep it cool as possible, and in good drinking condition. The dairy cow requires anywhere from 15 gallons to 44 gallons per day depending on her milk production, outside temperatures and the moisture content of the feed.

Studies showed that cows with free access to water produced 4% more milk than cows watered twice daily, and about 10% more than those watered only once daily.

I already discussed fly control in a previous column, but remind you that if flies cause cows to be irritated or to run in hot weather, it surely will have an effect on milk production.

Dairymen can't change the weather, but you can assist your cows to endure it with shade. If natural shade isn't available on your farm, build an artificial shelter. A roof, 10-12 feet above ground will provide the best air circulation. If you have allowed enough space per cow to prevent crowding (about 60 square feet per animal should be sufficient.)

Glen is a good-looking boy of Negro descent with big dark eyes, black curly hair and medium complexion. He will soon be eight after he starts Grade 2 in the Fall. Though he has a mild perceptual handicap, he finished school as one of the top pupils in his class.

Glen is a healthy, active youngster who plays most outdoor sports. Baseball and skating are his favorites. He likes quieter activities, too.

That he is photographed with a book is no accident, because Glen enjoys reading and being read to. He is good at drawing and painting, he likes games and puzzles and is fond of TV, especially programs involving action or space. He seems to have some mechanical aptitude and enjoys putting things together.

Glen is shy with strangers, but is happy and relaxed among people he knows. He is co-operative and tries to please. He adjusts well to new situations and is comfortable with those he trusts.

Glen needs parents who will give him the warm reassurance that he is wanted and loved and who will understand that it may take him a little time to believe it. Weekly Meditation

CONTRIBUTED BY STIRLING CLERGYMEN

Pastor Edward MacDonald
Good Tidings Pent. Church

In Adam Bede, George Eliot represents the heroine Dinah Morris as thus pointing out to the unhappy Hetty Sorrel the conditions of true repentance: "God can't bless you while you have one falsehood in your soul; His pardoning mercy can't reach you until you open your heart to Him, and say, "I have done this great wickedness; O God, save me, make me pure from sin." While you cling to one sin and will not part with it, it must drag you down to misery after death, as it has dragged you to misery here in this world, my poor, poor Hetty. It is sin that brings dread, and darkness, and despair; there is light and blessedness for us as soon as we cast it off; God enters our souls then, and teaches us, and brings us strength and peace."

"For wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Romans 6:23.

A FORUM ABOUT MATURE WOMEN

The Roaring Twenties

(We mentioned recently that 50 years ago in many communities school teachers had to live very restricted lives. Our comments brought this interesting response.)

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I was teaching in British Columbia 50 years ago (and a few years before that). Back in those days we could wear any colored clothes we pleased, bright or otherwise. We often went out in the evenings with or without escorts, not only to school or church functions, but to parties, picture shows and even to dances. In the early 1920's we teachers had a monthly bridge club and often got home around midnight. Also, since many teachers were not living at home, and since there was seldom any public transportation, we could travel in a car driven by anyone. Once I drove into town from a friend's house with a Fuller Brush Man—alone. I always remember it because he drove right over a porcupine in the road. Fortunately, the animal was under the middle of the car, so neither it nor the tires were hurt.

W.M.N. Vancouver, B.C.

Dear W.M.N.:

Those must have been the days. Apparently, life in your community was not so circumscribed then as it was in some parts of the United States. Glad also to hear that the porcupine, as well as yourself, was unharmed by the brush with the Fuller Brush Man.

Marriage and Morale

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

My husband I are both 48 years old. We have a son almost 19 who's ready to enter college next fall. Also a precious baby girl just 15 months old. My problem is:-I worked as a secretary for many years before our marriage and then for 12 years between having my two children. As a result, I find it very tiring and depressing to stay home all the time and take care of a house and baby. When I was working I used my time more efficiently. Now all kinds of things seem to get me down. In addition, my husband has an aged mother who lives about 80 miles from here and he must often go to see her and do her various chores while I'm home alone with the baby and the housework. We once had a very happy marriage, but for the past few years we've been having serious and lasting arguments. I'd appreciate any advice you might have.

E.L., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear E.L.:

Now that your daughter is no longer an infant, why not consider a happier combination of outside employment and motherhood? Reliable secretarial skills are always in demand, so you shouldn't have too much trouble finding part-time work. And even if most of your earnings must go to pay for a responsible housekeeper, just getting you out of the house every day and back in circulation could help your morale and your marriage, too.

Scott Young

Kick, heave, and sneeze!

The funniest thing that happened around our place lately was I fell out of bed one morning.

I didn't laugh at the time, and no wonder. What a frustrating experience. Pull up a chair. I will tell you the whole sad story.

First, our bed is not easy to fall out of. It is 78 inches wide. Without taking more than my share I am usually a couple of feet from the edge of the bed when it is time to get up in the morning.

I cover this distance normally by use of a movement well known to gymnasts.

When I waken, and after a few moments during which I gather my wits about me (a rather drafty shawl some mornings), I throw off the covers with one hand and give a forward kick and heave.

This causes me to slide across the bed on my back for a foot or so, whereupon a quick contraction of what few muscles I possess brings me to a sitting position on the edge of the bed.

(Sneezing, but that has nothing to do with this story.)

However, this recent morning I had to get up about 6. I threw off the covers and kicked forward. I went right over the side of the bed and landed on the floor. One foot hit the dresser. One elbow hit a bed table. I also felt a slight twinge in my back, below my left shoulder, as if I had bowed a tendon. But that instantly stopped hurting.

At the commotion all this caused, my wife raised sleepily on one elbow and peered at me, saying in a slow, low voice, "What . . ."

"I fell out of bed," I said.

"Oh," she said. She then went back to sleep. She didn't have to rise until 8.

You know how it is when you bang yourself and there is nobody around to offer sympathy. Life becomes rather incomplete.

When I was washing, I could make my back twinge a bit if I twisted my left arm into a difficult position and shoved hard.

"It'll get a lot worse as soon as it stiffens up," I thought soothingly, complimenting myself on not being the kind of guy who crawled back into bed and missed a day's work just because he'd torn a few muscles in his back.

For the next hour or two out around the yard I gave my back every opportunity to give me trouble. As I worked, I held the left shoulder a little higher than the other to make it more comfortable in case it decided to start hurting. Still, I could hardly get the hint of a twinge out of it.

Later at breakfast, my wife told me about 18 or 20 things and plied me with scrambled eggs and bacon and coffee. But not a word about ME!

Finally, I said, "I fell out of bed this morning."

"I know," she said. She at least had the grace not to smile.

"I think I hurt my back," I said hopefully. I made my shoulders go up and down in a series of quick shrugs. If I did it fast enough I could get a little tinge.

She said, "More eggs?"

In fact, we didn't really get our little marital problem worked out until that evening. We were in bed watching television. During a commercial I said, "This must have been how I did it. . ."

I got about 18 inches from the side of the bed and made my big morning move with the feet kicking and all.

Sure enough, I landed on the floor again — so hard it almost made my back hurt.

My wife finally was unmasked. She laughed. She beat the pillow with her fists, laughing, and her hair fell over her eyes, and she laughed and laughed until she had to wipe her eyes and then turn over and look the other way so she couldn't see me sitting mournfully on the floor.

"When I woke up," she cried, "I could just see you in the dim light slowly sliding out of sight!" She laughed and laughed and laughed.

Well, finally I laughed, too. Nobody can say I'm not a good sport. But can you imagine that lousy back — all the chance in the world, and not a twinge.

Among the Books
At Stirling Public Library

Stirling Public Library is open after the summer holidays, with a new supply of books for your reading enjoyment. Among the new titles are "Combo: U.S.A. by Rudi Blesh, biographies of eight jazz musicians, including the legendary Louis Armstrong. This book will give readers an appreciation of a unique style of music.

"Trails of a Wilderness Wanderer" by Andy Russell - a comprehensive picture of the Canadian West, by a versatile frontiersman, who has been a fisherman, hunter, cowboy, bronco-buster, guide and outfitter, and who knows the rugged country as few others have done.

"Ride Out the Dark" by Christabel Bielenberg, an Englishwoman married to a German, who describes her experiences during World War II.

John Steinbeck's "Journal of a Novel, the East of Eden Letters", gives a facinating glimpse into the working life of a famous writer, and into the background of one of his greatest works.

"Life and Death of a Salt Marsh" by John and Mildred Teal - one of nature's gifts, the salt marshes of the East Coast are described, together with their wildlife. Their development and value are examined, and it is seen how ruthlessly man is destroying them.

"Searchers at the Gulf" by Franklin Russell also describes the land and sea creatures that live in a place such as the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and the effect upon them of nature's disasters as well as the changing seasons.

Of special interest during the holidays are the new booklets "Historic Ontario" and "History of the Rideau Waterway".

For an absorbing hobby, we have "Collecting, Preparing and Preserving Insects, by Bryan P. Beirne, a publication of the Canada Department of Agriculture. We also have an interesting little regional cookbook, "A French Canadian Cookbook", by E. Donald Asselin, M.D.

Our fiction books include "The White Dawn: an Eskimo Saga" by James Houston, a story in which the reader can share the insight of the author into the Eskimo culture. Based on a real incident in the 1890's, the inexorable effects of change are vividly seen.

"Epicenter" by Basil Jackson is set in Southern Ontario, and the reader lives in suspense when a nuclear power plant develops a leak, and threatens the lives of two million people.

"The Show of the Lynx" by Victoria Holt is a new best seller by this popular author, and takes the reader to Australia and then to England, in a tale of suspense and adventure.

For suspense and mystery fans, we have "Queen's Pawn" by Victor Canning; "The Stately Homes Murder" by Catherine Aird; "A Risky Way to Kill" by Richard Lockridge; "The Spy who Spoke Porpoise" by Philip Wylie; "Ellery Queen's Mystery Parade," and "Ellery Queen's Murder Menu"; "Deliverance" by James Dickey; and "In Transit" by Brigid Brophy.

For younger readers, "Ethiopia" by Barbara Noland shows a picture of Ethiopian life, illustrated with photographs of this African country. "Animal Folktales Around the World" by Kathleen Arnott is a collection of stories, traditional and mythical, from more than thirty countries, illustrated in balck and white and color, by Bernadette Watts.

These, and other new books are ready for your enjoyment, so come and browse among our shelves. Happy reading!

ARDA HQ is changed

The Hastings County ARDA office in Stirling will in the future be directed from regional headquarters in Peterborough rather than from Kingston.

The Agricultural and Regional Development branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food has appointed B.B. Hodgins as the Rural Development Officer for the Peterborough Region to serve the five counties of Hastings, Northumberland, Haliburton, Victoria and Peterborough.

Previous to the opening of the Peterborough office, the Hastings area had been serviced by Rural Development Officer Robert McMahon of Kingston and by Clayton Hall of Stirling and Wilfred Shier of Bancroft. The two Hastings men will now work under Mr. Hodgins, who has been transferred from the Georgian Bay region.

Hickory trees only grow in Canada along the Lower Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River.

River Valley Women's Institute

On Thursday afternoon, August 5, River Valley Women's Institute sponsored a tour of Ameliasburg Museum.

Nineteen members and four visitors enjoyed the outing. The five ladies who chauffered the group were Mrs. James Hoard, Mrs. Jack Bush, Mrs. Gerald Brooks, Miss Adeline Bush and Mrs. E. W. Bogart.

The group gathered at the centre at 12:30 p.m. and then travelled to Prince Edward County via Highway 33 and Trenton.

The museum building was erected in 1868 as a Methodist Church. Later, in 1925, it was a United Church and it was used continuously until 1967 when due to the amalgamation of United Churches, it was closed.

Later it was acquired by Ameliasburg municipality and converted to a museum. In June, 1968, it was opened to the public. The chapel contains the original pulpit, communion table, organ and a few church seats and a marriage ceremony was held there a few days previous to the tour.

Glass show cases displayed the large collection of antique articles. Many of these are loaned for one season and then others are shown the following year.

The show cases contained collections of rock, pictures, Indian relics, statures, wedding outfits, china, glass, and a variety of quilts as well as many other items. There was a complete school room, old fashioned nursery and household furniture with a spinning wheel and sewing machine.

The lawn was a bower of beauty with flowers, shrubs and a marble fountain.

The adjoining log house was donated to the museum board by V. O'Hara and moved and restored through their efforts. Nearby was a fenced in garden plot which contained a large assortment of herbs grown in grandmother's day.

The lower part of the log cabin showed a complete kitchen and dining area on the one side with an old fashioned parlor, with colorful rag carpet on the opposite side. The upstairs contained a full assortment of bedroom furniture which was used 100 years ago.

The machinery building in the background showed a restored blacksmith shop and a large collection of farm machinery and tools. The fenced in enclosures held a veal calf, a goat, ducks, pheasants, a peacock, guinea hens and pigeons.

The stump fence, rail and wire enclosures and rain barrels all added to the scene.

The group then travelled to the park nearby at Roblin Lake where a short meeting was held under the trees.

Mrs. George Grills opened with the 'Institute Ode' and 'Mary Stewart Collect'. Mrs. Gerald Brooks read the minutes, correspondence and thank you notes.

The roll call gave a description of a holiday of your youth and the means of transportation.

Mrs. John Mackey was presented with her membership pin.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Donohoe, gave the financial picture and outlined the barn sale and swimming course.

The weekly crest in the Stirling News-Argus was authorized to be paid.

The group was reminded of the 50th anniversary of the Bay of Quinte WI on August 11.

A one day short course, Fashion Cues for You, is scheduled for October 8 with Uniondale and River Valley as sponsors. More particulars will be announced later.

No action was taken re an exhibit for the Belleville Fair.

On Tuesday afternoon, August 10, several members will convene at the centre to make the individual gifts of the Linh Institute in England.

The program consisted of a paper on the motto 'What you learn after you know it all that counts.'

Mrs. Roy Bush said, "Keep an open mind, there is always something to learn. Do not get set in your ways early in life or you might be quite a bore if you live to old age."

She also said, "Remeber our 'Collect', which says, 'Let us be large in thought, in word and deed'. Are we serene and gentle with those who have not had our experiences. Let each of us think in the future."

"Are we sure we can make apple pie, are we a really good neighbor and lastly let us not forget to be kind," said Mrs. Bush.

The Institute grace was sung and the refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, cheese and a cold drink were provided by Mary Hoard, Margaret Bush, Catherine Donohoe and Essie Tucker.

Mrs. Jack Bush voiced appreciative thanks to everyone who had contributed to the successful afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Corfield, who lives in Ameliasburg, voiced thanks for her invitation to join the institute members for the afternoon. Mrs. Corfield was a former school teacher at River Valley.

The group then travelled home by way of Rednersville and Belleville.

Surcharge May Cause Layoffs at Elaine

By ROY D. LEWIS

News-Argus Reporter

A 10 percent surcharge on imports to the United States, announced Sunday by President Richard Nixon, may have drastic effects on a Stirling industry.

John Svoboda, president of Elaine Footwear (Stirling) Ltd. said yesterday the surcharge will cost his firm $300,000 in business and will destroy any opportunity that the company may have had in competing in the U.S. footwear market.

"With the 12 per cent duty, shipping charges and now this 10 per cent surcharge on the overall bill, we cannot possibly compete in the U.S. market," he said.

Mr. Svoboda also said the new American policy could result in layoffs at the Stirling shoe factory in September or October.

He did suggest two courses of action that could maintain production at the factory.

"If government officials could convince the United States to rule that such a surcharge would not be applicable to Canada, then there would be no problem," said Mr. Svoboda.

On Monday, acting Prime Minister Mitchell Sharp, announced the Canadian government would send a delegation to Washington, to officially seek exemption for Canada from the import surcharge.

Mr. Svoboda said that if his company could find markets in Canada for the production that is normally sent to the U.S. then the loss of the southern market, would have little or no effect on the company.

"I cannot see why the United States would adopt such a policy," said Mr. Svoboda, "because of the close economic structure of both countries. Wages in both countries are quite similar."

Elaine Footwear exports approximately seven per cent of its total production to the U.S. The company was in negotiations with U.S. firms for the export of 50,000 pairs of women's shoes during 1972. This order now is in jeopardy, he said.

Mr. Svoboda also predicted another problem arising from the surcharge.

"Because of the surcharge, European manufacturers will be shipping more goods into Canada rather than the United States and these products will be cheaper because of the lower wages paid to laborers in Europe," he said.

WHERE THE FIRE ORIGINATED

Graham C. Mouck, chief of the Stirling volunteer fire department, points to a charred area of the living room floor of the home of Bernard Berry, Frankford Road, where a serious fire broke out early last Wednesday morning. Seven occupants of the house had a narrow escape from the smoky blaze.

A PRESENTATION IN MEMORY OF MOUNT PLEASANT PIONEERS

Mrs. Percy MacMullen presented a large bouquet of white mums in memory of the pioneers, during a memorial service held Sunday in connection with the Centennial services at Mount Pleasant United Church west of Stirling. Accepting the bouquet is the pastor, Rev. W.C. Cox, while the guest speaker for the occasion, Rev. Gordon Whitehorne of Seymour, looks on. About 175 persons, from widely separated points, attended the service.

Service held to honor pioneers

(by Mrs. Percy MacMullen)

On Sunday afternoon, August 15, a memorial service was held in connection with the Centennial Services at Mount Pleasant United Church.

A large number of graves in both cemeteries were decorated with colorful flowers in memory of loved ones who had been laid to rest.

The service, which had been planned for the church lawn, was held inside the edifice due to the change in the weather.

Campbellford Salvation Army band provided music for the hymns. Those participating in the band included Lieutenant and Mrs. Walter Howeth, William Cubitt and sons, Steven and William and Sergeant W. C. Martin.

Approximately 175 people from 15 communities attended the service. Visitors came from Bathurst, New Bruinswick; Picton; Peterborough; Campbellford Oshawa; Belleville; Marmora; Trenton; Stirling; Rylstone; Burnbrae; Hoard's Station; Seymour; River Valley and West Huntingdon. Ross Hoard was in charge of the guest book.

Rev. W. C. Cox, pastor of Rawdon charge gave the call to worship and the service opened with "The Lord is my Shepherd."

Rev. Gordon Whitehorne of Seymour, read the Bible lesson and Rev. Cox offered prayer.

The offering was gathered by Raymond McConnell, William McAdam, Lynn Joslin and Kenneth Sharp. The collection will be given to Mount Pleasant Cemetery Board.

The pastor extended a welcome to all who had returned for this special service and voiced appreciative thanks to Campbellford Salvation Army Bank and to Rev. Gordon Whitehorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Casement, Oshawa, gave a gift of $10.00 to Mount Pleasant Church in memory of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Casement and his brother and sister who are laid to rest in the church cemetery.

A letter of greeting was read from a former pastor, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Havelock. He regretted not being able to attend the Centennial Services.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen presented a large bouquet of white mums in memory of the pioneers.

The flowers were provided by the centennial committee. She said, "I have the honor of dedicating this container of flowers in memory of all those pioneers who built their homes in the wilderness and later established this church in 1871, some of them are laid to rest in both the church cemetery and the Hubble Hill pioneer UEL Cemetery across the road.

Mrs. MacMullen went on to say, "at this time we also pay tribute to all those who have served this church and community in later years. They now rest from their labors and we honor them all at this time." She closed with a poem written several years ago when the author paid tribute to the hard work of the pioneers and wondered, if in spite of all our vaunted march of science, if their quiet lives in sunlit villages, close to birds and flowers were probably happier than ours today.

The hymn, He Leadeth Me, was sung. The special message was given by Rev. Gordon Whitehorne and was based on fellowship. He pictured the many things that have been handed down from those God fearing pioneers. They probably had more time to study their Bible and to worship and they set wonderful examples to those that followed in their foot steps.

One hundred years is a long time in the life of a church and those who are here today have shown, by their gifts in the cemetery, that they cherish their memory. He completed his message with the poem, We Cannot Think of Them as Dead.

The service closed with the hymn, Faith of our Fathers, and the benediction. The group then enjoyed a chat on the lawn and later light refreshments were served in the church hall.

Those in attendance were delighted to have this opportunity to pay a special tribute to their loved ones and also to enjoy a chat with old friends.

This is the third of a series of centennial services honoring the 100 years of church work at Mount Pleasant.

Gus Dobbie sends a card

The Senior Citizens extend their sympathy to Everett and Mary Cooke in their recent bereavement.

The meeting on Thursday was well attended, there being about 50 present. The local Women's Institute entertained us with a program of readings, contests and a nice afternoon lunch. The clapping was loud and long when President Fred called for our usual way of saying thank you. Next week we will play progressive euchre again.

Last week dis ole Scribe got very funny birthday card from us Dobbie of Smiths Falls. Gus was editor of our local paper for some years and a good one too. He feared no criticism and when the water works was an issue, in his editorials he swung a mighty blade and let the chips fall where they might. When he left here, the tall water tank was termed by many as The Dobbie Memorial. The installation of the water works in Stirling was one of the finest things that ever happened here.

Thanks, Gus, for the card and a big thanks for being a booster of our permanent water system. Your memorial still stands, filled to the brim with the best spring water in Ontario.

dis ole Scribe.

Spring Brook Pee Wees, a team composed of players from Stirling, Spring Brook and Marmora, took the best of three semi-final series two games to none when they downed Norwich 20 to 10 in softball action on Monday evening. Runs in the second game of the series were scored by Cliff Reid and Mark Dobson with four apiece, Wayne Andrews and Randy Trumble with three apiece and Craig Killian and Glen Merrick with two runs apiece. Singles went to Craig Morton and Doug Bastedo. Randy Trumble picked up two home runs and Mark Dobson one in the game on Monday evening.

In the first game of the series in Norwich on Friday evening, Spring Brook defeated them 8 to 5 with Wayne Andrews, Craig Killian and Randy Trumble picking up two runs apiece while Cliff Reid and Mark Dobson added with singles. Norwich led by two runs at the end of the 4th during when the score was 5 to 3 but Stirling came back in the fifth with four runs by Andrews, Killian, Reid and Trumble's home run.

A three run third inning carried Middleton Park - Trenton Bantams to a 5 to 2 win over Stirling in the first game of their second round OASA Bantam B playdowns at Centennial Park on Monday night, August 9.

Kevin Solmes led the Stirling attack with a double and two singles. Reed Morton and Terry Bailey provided doubles with David Jeffs and Glen Detlor picking up the other hits. Pitcher for Stirling, David Jeffs was tagged with the loss. He yielded nine hits, walked two, and retired 10 on strikes.

A third and deciding second round Bantam B LASA playoff series will have to be held in Trenton some time this week. Stirling gained a 7 to 3 win over Middleton Park - Trenton on Wednesday night to even the series.

The Trenton entry has lodged a protest with the OASA due to the officiating in the game. It appears neither the plate or base umpire would reveal their credentials upon request, even after being asked by a local OASA convenor.

Stirling picked up a single run in the bottom of the first, two runs in the third, three runs in the fourth and another run in the fifth to account for the scoring.

Dale Acorn led the winners with three singles. Stan Myers homered and singled, Terry Bailey tripled with Kevin Solmes, Reed Morton, and David Jeffs adding the other hits.

The third and deciding game in the semi-final round of the Zone four playoffs will be played in Trenton some time this week.

At 2:00 p.m. today, officials of the Ontario Water Resources Commission and other government representatives will participate in an official ceremony to mark the opening of the new Water Pollution Control System for the Town of Campbellford.

This system, estimated at $1,165,000, is a secondary treatment plant comprising the activated sludge method with mechanical aeration. The province has financed and will operate the system for the municipality.

In addition to the plant, the system consists of a trunk sewer, forcemains and two pumping stations.

Ottawa group buys Madoc Arts Centre

Tentative arrangements have been made to sell the Madoc-Tweed Art and Writing Centre near Madoc to the Bartonian Metaphysical Society Inc. of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cadwell, owners and directors of the Centre made the announcement this week.

"This will provide more time to devote to the Lester B. Pearson Peace Park which was our Centennial project," said Roy Cadwell, Chairman of the Peace Park.

The Cadwells are selling the art centre property, but are retaining a life estate in the cottage on the premises as a spring, summer and fall residence. They have also given an option to the purchasers for an additional ten acres along the Black river, but are retaining the balance of the eighty acres of school property. The reputed price was in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The Bartonian Metaphysical Society is a self improvement group based on inner power, interested in peace and the betterment of mankind. Dr. Winnifred Barton is the founder and director. Classes in metaphysics will commence this week and the following weeks as well as during the summer months.

Dr. A. Y. Jackson was the Head Art Adviser since the organization of the centre in 1952, which was the first of its kind in Ontario. Roy Cadwell a retired lawyer was the administrative director. In 1968 creative writing as well as art and ceramics was added to the curriculum. The Schneider school of art in Actinolite was established by students formerly at the centre.

As continuing residents of the area, Mr. Cadwell is writing a book on the origin of town names in Canada and his wife, Priscilla, will continue her interest in art, free from the responsibility of teaching at the centre.

SWEEP workers will clear festival site

The Moira River Conservation Authority's section of project S.W.E.E.P. will assist in the cleanup of the Rock Acres Peace Festival. S.W.E.E.P. workers under the direction of senior supervisor Alan Cooke were to move into the area today.

The objective of the S.W.E.E.P. crew will be cean-up of the Madoc township roads in the vicinity of the peace festival; the main target will be refuse such as empty cartons, assorted wrappings, and bottles left by the several thousand rock fans.

The peace festival clean-up is one of many projects undertaken by the Moira's S.W.E.E.P. crew. Landscaping and painting at the O'Hara Mill Conservation Area northwest of Madoc, clearing for a new road at the Colonel Roscoe Vanderwater Conservation Area, removal of several roadside dumping sites, and picnic area development at Deerock Reservoir have already been completed.

The Moira S.W.E.E.P. force is comprised of seven local youths under Mr. Cooke's supervision. These youths are: Steven Fisher, Thomasburg, foreman, Peter Thompson, Belleville, Gordon Reid, Madoc, Sandy Smith, Madoc, Bill Grover, Foxboro, Pierre Salois, Belleville, Paul Christie, Belleville.

Project S.W.E.E.P. is an Ontario government program providing summer employment for some 2,000 students administered equally and jointly by the Department of Lands and Forests and the Department of Energy and Resources Management.

WEEKLY REPORT FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT

CO-OP (BY JACK WOOD)

LIVESTOCK CHEWING HABITS

You may see your animals eating dirt, or chewing their pen walls, or even each other. Sometimes lack of minerals cause these problems. Self-feeding minerals will provide the individual animal with its own needs, if the ration doesn't supply it with enough mineral.

But it doesn't always cure the problem. For example, pigs will develop the habit of chewing each other's tails off. Some swine producers try to avoid this by docking the tails at birth, but often pigs will turn to chewing ears, when tails aren't available.

Giving the pigs more space, rubber tires or other chewable objects may minimize the damage to each other.

Pigs aren't the only offenders. It has been discovered that some horses will chew tails, when fed a completely pelletted ration. Some researchers believe it could be due to the lack of roughage, but it could also be insufficient minerals for the individual horse's needs.

But all classes of livestock will turn to chewing wood, and you can only try to solve the problem by trying one curative step at a time. If mineral deficiency is not the problem, it may be due to some other nutritional problem that is yet unknown.

Some animals do have differing nutritional requirements than others. For example, researchers have found that pigs benefit from some factor or factors in soil, even when the pig eating the soil, also receives all the essential minerals in its ration.

It may be just a bad habit, or it could even stem from boredom.

St. Paul's Faith Unit

The Faith Unit of St. Paul's United Church Women held a meeting on June 15, at the church, with 29 ladies present.

Mrs. Bruce Stapley presided, opened with a thought on testing Christ's word, and a short prayer.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. R. N. Smith, Mrs. Ray Rose read the minutes.

"Come We That Love the Lord" was sung, and all joined in the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was received. Birthday money was contributed by Mrs. L. Thompson. A letter was read from the sponsored child in Hong Kong. Mrs. Donnan reported on the boxes of clothing sent to the Toronto depot for baling. For stewardship, Mrs. A. Bush read a poem on friendship.

Announcements were made concerning a forthcoming Bake Sale and the Fall Bazaar.

A worship service was conducted by Mrs. H. Philp and Mrs. R. Chambers on "Love". The hymn, "Come Let Us Sing of a Wonderful Love" was followed by a meditation bringing out that love is generous, and that it is more blessed to give love than to receive it, though it can never compare with divine love.

Mrs. Philp sang a solo, "Only a Touch of Thy Hand, Dear Lord," accompanied by Mrs. H. West. The offering was taken by Mrs. L. Thompson and Mrs. B. Bateman, and dedicated by Mrs. Philp. Mrs. V. Richardson presented a study on Brazil. It is the fifth largest country with a population of 86 million. A film was shown, showing help given in health clinics, education, training for new parents and handicrafts. Coffee and iron are the chief exports.

The meeting closed with prayer led by Mrs. H. Wells. Lunch was served by the committee - Mrs. H. Brooks, Mrs. H. Philp, Mrs. M. Ayrhart, and Mrs. R. Chambers. Miss L. Williams thanked them and all who had taken part in the meeting.

deJong - Parker

Bouquets of white carnations with pink sprays of gladioli adorned St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Burnbrae, on July 17 when, at 3:00 o'clock, Jean Marie Parker, R.R. 3, Campbellford, became the bride of Jeen Wieger deJong, Church St., Stirling. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parker and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wieger deJong.

Rev. McBride officiated at the ceremony and the organist was Gerald Taylor. Miss Linda Walker sang two solos, Whither Thou Goest and Bless These Two.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon organza over nylon taffetta styled with an Empire waistline, high stand up collar, long full sleeves with a tight cuff. The collar, waistline, cuffs and front of the dress were all trimmed in Alencen lace. A two tier chapel length silk illusion viel was held in place by a wedding band headpiece trimmed in matching Alencen lace and the veil edged with the same lace. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations with lace dolly and white and pink streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Donna Hutcheon (cousin of the bride), and the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Parker (sister of the bride) and Miss Barbara Hoard, were dressed alike. They wore gowns in white on lilac printed, chiffon over taffetta with short puffed sleeves, empire waist, high, stand up collar and a deep frill on the bottom. The waistline, accentuated with a wide deeper lilac velvet sash, had a bow and ribbon. White, flop brim hats and white wrist length gloves completed the outfit. They each carried nosegays of white carnations with centres tinted purple, surrounded by lace dollies.

The groomsman was William Bosiak of Stirling and the ushers were Ronald Hutcheon, Kingston, (cousin of the bride) and Robert deJong, Stirling, brother of the groom.

A dinner was held in the church basement following the wedding and reception was held at the Stirling Legion Hall.

The bride's mother wore a sheer blue dress with lace appliques, white accessories with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations with centres tinted blue.

The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress with full sheer sleeves, white accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses with white carnations with centres tinted pink.

For a trip around Lake Huron, the bride chose a blue and green floral organza dress with white accessories and a corsage of white and yellow 'mums.

Out of town guest were from Port Perry, Emsdale, Plainfield, Trenton, Toronto, Belleville, The Netherlands and Kingston.

The couple will reside at R.R. 3, Frankford.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at several showers. A miscellaneous shower was given by Misses Carolyn Herd and Ruth Ferguson, two fellow teachers in Scarborough.

Miss Dianne Todd acted as hostess at Burnbrae Church when the ladies of the community gathered and presented the bride with miscellaneous gifts.

The home of Mrs. Ken Ray was the setting for a surprise pantry shower. Mrs. Betty Lutgendorff and Mrs. John Ray were co-hostesses.

A rotten home for hogs!

Earlier this summer, I might have indicated that as a groundhog hunter I suffered somewhat from occasional attacks of the vapors — such as exchanging long looks with a grizzled old groundhog once, instead of getting him in my sights and going Ka-pow.

However, all my humanitarian instincts disappeared in an instant the other day.

Right in the middle of what must be one of the world's leading groundhog preserves, we have a garden. All summer, every summer, we are aware that various small animals are gulping down our efforts. So much so that it is a wonder to me that a groundhog, a chipmunk and a rabbit have never yet approached under a flag of truce to give my wife and me an illuminated plaque, or something, for feeding them so well.

This summer, however, we decided to foil them — we hoped. We put a snow-fence around the garden. Did the job myself with an iron-stake hammerer and a lot of snow-fence that usually just loafs around all summer, taking up space.

I knew this wouldn't keep chipmunks out, or birds. But I thought the big eaters, the rabbits and groundhogs, would have to settle for what they could get by reaching through the slats. That is, not much.

Then this day my wife came storming up to the house.

"Guess where there's a groundhog hole!" she said.

I couldn't.

"Right in the middle of the tomatoes!"

So there was. We have tomato plants like oak trees this summer. And right under one of the biggest ones, dug so close that the roots were exposed, was this new groundhog hole. We'd been away for a week and obviously this groundhog, probably a young one, had forced its way in and then decided to homestead in this nice shady place just a short stroll from the lettuce and beets and peas.

I studied the situation from all angles. There was so much cover that it would be almost impossible to surprise him, even by laying in wait with a .22 rifle.

"We'll run a line from the car's exhaust," I said. This took an evening to do. We tramped earth around a plastic pipe running into the hole. Ran the car for 20 minutes. "No groundhog could survive that," I stated firmly, as we withdrew the hose and filled the hole with earth.

Next morning, it was still packed tight. But the morning after that, the hole was open again. Proving, among other things, that groundhogs are very durable.

We then poured water down the hole until it was filled and the water was level with the surface of the ground. No groundhog appeared. Again, we filled the hole with earth. The next morning the hole was dug out again.

We were standing there contemplating it when a man came along with a tank truck containing several hundred gallons of water. "Want me to run my line down there" he asked. "With this amount of water, he'd either have to come out, or drown."

"Meanwhile, the garden would get washed away," my wife said, "No thanks."

So we filled it with earth again — and this time the groundhog did not return.

I can only put myself in the place of that young groundhog sitting at the bottom of the hole thinking about his new surroundings that first had seemed so pleasant and homey.

"This neighborhood isn't so good after all," he'd be thinking. "First I'm sitting here minding my own business when a big pipe comes down and I almost get gassed. A day later when I'm recovering from that, sick as a dog, water starts pouring in here and I almost drown."

Then he must have packed his belongings and dug his way out and kept right on going. I hope so, anyway.

News-Argus, print shop re-united

Robert L. Hulin, owner of Stirling Commercial Printing, today announced the sale of the business to Lynn E. Jones, formerly of Guelph. The transaction will become effective on Wednesday, September 1.

At the same time, the commercial printing business will be re-united with The Stirling News-Argus in a new company headed by Mr. Jones and Eldon Kemp, who purchased the newspaper from Mr. Hulin on Aug. 28, 1970.

The new combined business will operate much the same as it did prior to the separation of the newspaper and printing businesses one year ago, with one office and one telephone number instead of the present two.

Although Mr. Jones has purchased the Stirling Commercial Printing name, the printing business will in the future be operated under the old, familiar newspaper name.

Mr. Hulin, who served as editor and publisher of the News-Argus from 1964 to 1970, has agreed to remain on staff and will be a valuable asset to the new company. His association with the News-Argus extends back for 26 years.

Both Mr. Jones and Mr. Kemp are former employees of Thomson Newspapers Ltd. Mr. Jones, 38, received his education at Rockway, Niagara-on-the-Lake and Gravenhurst Public Schools and Gravenhurst High School.

After spending four years with the Toronto-Dominion Bank, he enrolled at Toronto Teachers' College and, upon his graduation, taught public school for two years at Sutton and Keswick.

In 1958, he joined Thomson Newspapers with the Orillia Daily Packet and Times and worked as sports editor, district editor, photo engraver and assistant accountant.

In May, 1966, he was transferred to The Trentonian in Trenton as accountant, remaining in that position until Jan. 25, 1971, when he moved to the Guelph Daily Mercury as chief accountant.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Jones was ordained elder while in Guelph. In Trenton, he attended the Wesleyan Methodist Church where he held several offices.

A member of the Loyal Orange Lodge and the Royal Black Knights, he currently is the grand treasurer for Canada and secretary for Western Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Lisa aged 2 1/2 and Larry, aged six months, have taken up residence at 19 Rosco Ave. in Stirling.

Mr. Kemp, 30, came to Stirling after serving for 10 years as a reporter-photographer at The Trentonian.

He was a former member of the Scarborough Police Department and was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion No. 228 and the Scarborough Masonic Lodge No. 653. It was a close game with the teams tied 4 to 4 going into the seventh inning. Spring Brook scored two runs in the first, two in the fifth, and two in the seventh.

The two teams will clash this Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Spring Brook ball field. If a third game is necessary, it will be played either at Spring Brook or Stirling. LEGION NOTES

Following an absence of several months, Branch # 228 Legion Notes returns to the pages of the Stirling News Argus. It is hoped that this feature will prove informative to the general public, and to all veterans in particular. At the present, Legion Notes may be a bi-monthly feature, however, if news and activity warrant, we will atempt to provide a weekly news column of Legion activity.

During the past two months, regular meetings have been suspended, with the regular business of the Branch being conducted by the Branch Executive. The last meeting of the Executive was held on Tuesday, August 17th. Some features of this meeting are as follows.

Branch membership has reached a total of 117. This is an all-time high for the branch, and represents an 8% increase in membership over the total for 1970. We have welcomed our first ex-servicewoman as a regular member in the person of Miss Joan Baxter. Comrade Joan has volunteered to address and mail our Branch Bulletin to all members each month. We look forward to receiving membership applications from other ex-servicewomen in this area. Indeed, any veteran is welcome. All they need do is contact membership chairman, Herb Wall, at the post-office.

Our first general meeting encompassing the entire membership, will be held on Tuesday, September 7. It will be preceded by a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m. with the regular business meeting to follow. The executive have expressed the hope that all our members will note this date and make a special effort to be on hand to start our fall season of activity. Our pot-luck dinners have been most successful, and there is certainly no shortage of fine food and good comradeship.

The Legion executive have approved plans to make an extensive survey of our present sound system in the Legion hall. With careful planning and advice, it is the hope of the executive to greatly improved our music for dances and other events. Much more will be heard of this work in the very near future.

Plans to re-furbish six tables for the bingo committee were approved. With a minimum of effort, this work can be accomplished by a work party in two or three hours. A further announcement of the date for this project will be made at the September 7 meeting.

Branch service officer, Ray Tanner, reported that Comrade Charles Brenton, a valued member of Branch 228, was at present a patient in Belleville General Hospital. We are sure that Comrade Charlie would welcome a note or card.

Two special Legion functions are scheduled for early September. On Saturday, September 11, Belleville branch #99 will open their new three storey legion building. We are especially proud of this achievement, in that Comrade Wieger de Jong, was the contractor. On the following day, Sunday, September 12 the District F Drumhead Service will be held in Brighton, the parade to move off at 1 p.m. All members of Stirling Branch are urged to plan to attend both of these functions. Of special to all veterans will be the attendance of Dominion President, Judge Redmond Roche, O.B.E.: K. St. J; E.D. Q. C., who will participate in both the opening of the Belleville Branch and at the Drumhead Service in Brighton on Sunday, Sept. 12. In order that we may have co-ordination of transportation we ask all members and veterans to check for further details at the Branch or with any member of the Legion executive. It is our hope that a good turn-out will be assured.

Plans were discussed to hold a MONSTER STEW NIGHT for all members on Saturday, September 18 at the Legion Hall. We have uncovered some considerable cooking talent within the male ranks of Branch 228, and these comrades have offered their services in concocting a mouth-watering stew. Our culinary experts assure us that the reference to "Monster Stew" does not indicate the contents, but rather the size. They plan to use good stewing beef plus many other secret ingredients. More on this at a later date.

With the approach of the fall season, we again become conscious of the advent of Remembrance Day on Nov. 11. Plans will soon be taking shape for this observance, and further information will be made public within the month.

Lawn bowling tourney held

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chouinare, Trenton, were three-game winners in a lawn bowling tournament in Stirling on Saturday. Their score was 49 plus 9.

Two game winners were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Chouinard, Trenton, with a score of 48 plus 1.

One game winners were Clayton Maguire and Mrs. Helen Coutts, also of Trenton, with a score of 47 plus 2.

The ladies served a turkey dinner.

Local Midgets defeat Cobourg

Spring Brook Midgets took the first game in the best of three zone finals against Cobourg on Saturday night. Spring Brook won by a score of 4 to 1. The second game will be held this Friday night in Cobourg at 8 p.m.

The team, composed of players from Spring Brook, Stirling, and Marmora, previously defeated Madoc and Kemptville.

The team is coached by Doug Andrews and Doug Campbell, and managed by Jim Morton. Members of the team are Ron Andrews, Don Campbell, John Maloney, Art Reid, Dale Bamber, Allan Morton, Jerry Reid, Brian Burkitt, Louie Doucette, Tom Bedore, Paul Burris, Gerry Doyle, and Barry Gray.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Carl Pitman, 42 Rodgers Dr., is a patient in Belleville General Hospital where she underwent surgery Wednesday, Aug. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Boyce attended the Miller-Valley wedding in Brighton on Saturday.

Some won, more didn't

There were 10 tables of progressive euchre at Senior Citizens on Thursday. As usual some won and more didn't. Those who lost seemed to have the most fun and deserve a big hand for without them there couldn't have been any winners.

The lunch was served by two old faithfuls, Kate Donohoe and Ada Bush.

It was Nellie Montgomery's birthday week and her daughter Shirley Dawson of Toronto had a lovely cake there to do honor in her absence. Buttimer Belshaw, our oldest citizen celebrated a birthday on the 20th and the birthday song was sung for him.

We discovered that two of our girls, Mina Smith and Flossie Geen tried to hush the fact that they too had birthdays last week. It's no use girls you can't stop getting older. There's only one way and that alternative isn't the easy way out. Cheer up girls.. everybody's doing it.

Well another bus trip is being arranged. This time to Ontario Place. The bus will leave St. Paul's parking lot at 8 a.m. on Sept. 9. The charge is $1.00 for members and $2.00 for non-members. Get your name in if you are going so that we will know how many non members seats we will have to sell.

ENGINE TROUBLE DELAYS STIRLING MAIL

Tuesday's mail arrived at Stirling two hours late when the truck bringing it from Belleville blew a piston.

Incoming mail from Belleville normally arrives here at 7:15 a.m. Yesterday, it did not arrive until about 9:15.

Mail for Stirling leaves Belleville and travels north through Tweed, Madoc and Marmora, and then south to Stirling.

Near Madoc, the truck broke down. Driver Stan Ray of Stirling managed to hitch a ride into Madoc from where he called for assistance.

A new truck was brought from Belleville, the cargo mail transferred and the journey continued.

Local postal clerks finished sorting about 9:45 a.m.

Chatterton WI

The August meeting of Chatterton W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Pat Dixon with 10 members and one visitor present.

The president, Mrs. Lettle, opened the meeting with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

The meeting was on the theme of History. Roll call was answered with, "A custom or fashion of older days I wish we had today."

Minutes of the last meeting in June were read and adopted as there was no meeting in July.

A short business period took place.

The convenor, Mrs. G. Irvine, took over the meeting.

Each member was asked to bring an old fashioned article, button jewellery, dish, etc., and tell its history. This was most interesting.

An old fashioned coffee grinder was shown, a very old scrapbook, old toy pressing irons and a lace piano cover, a coffee pitcher and cups which were very old, a chain with a $5.00 gold piece on it, and child's moccasins with beads.

After the meeting was closed, a silent auction took place of home cooking, vegetables, dishes, fruit and eggs, and a scarf. The hostess and her assistants served a dainty lunch.

Weekly Meditation

CONTRIBUTED BY STIRLING CLERGYMEN

Dear Stirling:

In the past few months I have said good -bye many times. However it has finally hit me that we are really leaving. It has also hit me that one cannot really know the full impact of good-bye until you get where you are going. Nevertheless for better or for worse you commit yourself to the 'new place'.

We live in a time of great movement. It is said one out of every four Canadians moves every year. Hundreds of people make their living through helping other people move. Yet with all this moving there is very little thought given to counselling the people who move. This is only our second move. We have been in Stirling 6 1/2 years. Nevertheless I think I can fell for those who have made many more moves. I have thought out a few general things for myself in regard to moving.

First of all when we are moving we say Good -bye. There is more to these words than the words seem to say. The phrase good bye comes from. "God be with you." In any move we are going but in faith. In this aspect we are not much different from the Old Testament character, Abraham. He moved some 4,000 years ago.

He went out in faith that God who had been with him in Ur, would go with him into his new land. In fact he had the feeling that God would be there ahead of him. We need this same faith and assurance today - that God goes before us.

It is unfortunate that so many people who move feel there is no One ahead to be with them. What little faith they have is left at home in their little local church. Yet in most communities to which they move there will be a Christian Church - with a fellowship waiting to welcome them.

Secondly much depends upon our attitude. If we move, certain that we are not going to like the new place, then we can be pretty certain we will not like it. It will not matter how many people invite you to dinner or give you the welcome hand you still will go on talking about what we did back in Pumpkin Centre. When I was growing up we had a man around town who we used to call Weyburn. He never said anything but what it was, "what we did in Weyburn, Sask." We 'locals' used to get very tired of hearing about Weyburn. In fact some suggested he would be happier to move back there.

The amazing thing about those who never get over the last place is that quite often they didn't like it there either.

Again some move into a community with the attitude they pay their taxes and nothing more is required of them. I see big trouble ahead for our communities if this type continue to increase. When we move to a community we should expect to become involved in something for the church and community -- the heart society, cancer society, the boy's hockey team, scouts and so on. It is just plain selfish to expect to take all from a community and give nothing back in return.

Thirdly when we are thinking of moving perhaps it does us good to remember that soon we will be settled in our new home, and then we will be watching others move into town. It is at this point that Christ's second command really comes into action - do unto others as you would have them do to you. I am still grateful to the people who first invited us to their home when we arrived in Stirling. I know it is an effort to invite people to your home, and it seems more of an effort to invite new people. But we must remember what it feels like to be a stranger. Hospitality is the oldest rule of the human race. It is unfortunate that it seems to be dying out very rapidly in our day. It is very easy to become involved in our own little circle of friends and neighbers. But the odd thing about friends is that the more we have the more we are able to make new ones.

In closing these few thoughts may I say thank you to Stirling for our hospitality received, for allowing us to share in your community. May God be in your lives. We have enjoyed our time here. We hope we have been good for each other. There is sadness as we leave but there is also hope for our new home in Chatham.

We would welcome a visit from you anytime - Park Street United Church, Chatham.

Every morning for the last few weeks I've had one unchangeable routine. I make some coffee and carry a cup of it out of the back door and across the hill to a row of trees from where I can see, below, the field where our two horses linger. Always hoping there would be three, one a foal.

On this particular morning, I saw the two apparently grazing the hillside: Big Tom, the old gelding, and Tinker, the mare, maybe 200 feet apart.

I was about to turn away when Tinker, with her head down, made a complete circle but kept her head in the same place. I couldn't see why, but I guessed.

I went back to the house and got the field glasses. Then I sat on the old stone fence with my coffee on a rock beside me, and looked. As I did so a little head appeared through the grass at Tinker's nose. Its ears were pricked forward. Then I could see that the foal must have just been born, a few minutes earlier, because the placenta (the bag in which it had been carried; nature's prebirth home) had not yet come away from Tinker.

In another moment or two the foal tried to get to its feet for the first time. Its back legs straightened up, but the front ones weren't ready and it pitched forward on its face. In another few minutes it got all legs operating, tottered to its feet and took a few steps.

As it did so, Big Tom ambled over to have a look. Tinker laid her ears back and swung around to let him have a couple of hoofs on the chest, whereupon he retreated and looked at her rather doubtfully.

I thought I'd better get Tom out of there. My wife had phoned the veterinarian for the first-day shots and he said he'd be out in early afternoon. Then she and our 8-year-old daughter came with me as I took some oats to Tinker. She approached me with ears back, but hunger overcame protective emotions and she began to eat. The foal was a male, dark brown like his sire, a quarter-horse.

On the way back I caught Tom, led him to a nearby small field and closed the gate securely. This would give Tinker and the foal the privacy they needed — I thought. I went to the house for more coffee; returned immediately to the stone fence — and there was Big Tom, back in the field again, 50 feet from Tinker.

He hadn't gone through the fence: he had jumped it. He is 15 years old, and weighs about 1,800 pounds. I wish I'd seen that jump. Obviously, if he could get out that easily there was no use putting him back in. Instead, I kept watch all morning and he didn't bother them. Tinker kept him away.

But about noon I knew I'd better get Tinker and the foal so the vet could do his job about one p.m. I caught her all right. She didn't lead easily. When I was nearly down the steep hill, suddenly I saw Tom coming up behind her. The foal crossed between them. Tinker lashed out at Tom and hit the foal and knocked him down.

"Oh, no!" I cried.

But the foal jumped to his feet again unhurt and I drove Tom off and got the other two into their little field without further incident — until the vet arrived.

He couldn't get near her or the foal. So I said, "I'll take her into the barn."

We adjusted the big sliding door so that the opening was narrow. The idea was that I'd lead Tinker in, and the vet would catch the foal as it tried to follow. He had his needles ready with anti-tetanus and anti-biotics, and a disinfectant spray for the navel. It all worked — except that suddenly there I was in the barn trying to hold a plunging mare.

She couldn't see her foal and she went wild.

I was yanked back and forth across that barn like a ball in a pinball machine.

I had a tight grip with my hand through the halter leather. Only one thing I knew — if she went up in the air rearing, I was going up with her. I wasn't going to stand around waiting for her front hooves to come down on me.

After two or three minutes, the vet called quietly, "Okay, I'm finished." I let her go. We got them back in to the field. Now I go down every morning and watch the little fellow getting stronger every day.

WEEKLY REPORT FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT

CO-OP

(BY JACK WOOD)

Corn and Barley Preservatives

So many livestock feeders are looking to high moisture corn and barley for feed, that it seems worthwhile to talk about liquid preservatives for these grains.

The traditional methods for storing corn to control moulds and bacterial growth is to dry corn to 14% moisture, or store in air sealed silos. These silos work on the principle of reducing the oxygen supply to prevent fungus growth.

Many types of moulds and bacteria are present on grain when it's harvested. So when storage conditions provide too much moisture and the right temperatures, and the right oxygen level, the micro-organisms reproduce rapidly. Excessive heating, fermentation and spoilage follow.

The chemical preservative called chemstor prevents the growth of micro-organisms, so the factors mentioned above don't have any effect.

The preservative also prevents respiration action in grain and kills the embryo. Germination thus doesn't occur, and there is no loss of dry matter or nutrient value in the grain.

Capital investment needed for applying the preservative is far less than the cost of a drier or an air-sealed silo. The cost of using the preservative is about the same per bushel as custom drying costs. But the farmer who uses the preservative, of course, doesn't have the cost of transportation or waiting to have his corn dried at the drier.

One important feature is that chemstor treated grain can be stored almost anywhere - in bins, in sheds, silos, etc. provided it is clean and dry. Treated grain does need protection from rain and snow. In the past, freezing in winter was a problem, but new developments in the preservative have overcome this.

Many farmers still wonder if it has any affect on nutrient quality, or palatability of feed. All research to date shows chemstor preserved corn and barley are completely safe for the animal, and for humans eating meat or milk from these animals.

It is a combination of acetic and proprionic acids basically, so in some cases, growth and gain rates were improved over rations using untreated grain. These acids are an energy source and are completely used by the animal.

Now's the time to look into storing your high moisture grain the chemical way this fall.

Farmers have a disposal personal income only 76 percent that of average nonfarm workers.
